

RASA-USA Conference

November 4-5, 2017, Chicago

VIII Annual Conference of Russian American Science Association (RASA, registered non-profit, non-government organization; founded in 2008) aims to preserve, strengthen and develop the common intellectual and cultural space of the Russian-speaking scientists in the US. Invited presentations on various fields of research will be given by leading scientists (both in English and Russian). This year the conference is organized in cooperation with Northwestern University and dedicated to the 150th anniversary of Vladimir Ipatieff – an outstanding Russian chemist and NWU professor.
